Policy/Criteria

Provider must submit documentation (such as office chart notes, lab results or other clinical information) supporting that member has met all approval criteria.

2. If the requested use (e.g., diagnosis, age, dosing regimen) is NOT specifically listed under section III (Diagnoses/Indications for which coverage is NOT authorized) AND criterion 1 above does not apply, refer to the off-label use policy for the relevant line of business: CP.CPA.09 for commercial, HIM.PA.154 for health insurance marketplace, and CP.PMN.53 for Medicaid.

II. Continued Therapy

A. Marginal Zone Lymphoma and Follicular Lymphoma (must meet all):

1. Provider attestation of acknowledgment of FDA's request for withdrawal of product due to increased risk of death in members who have used Ukoniq;
2. Currently receiving medication via Centene benefit, or documentation supports that member is currently receiving Ukoniq for a covered indication and has received this medication for at least 30 days;
3. Member is responding positively to therapy;
4. For Ukoniq requests, member must use umbralisib, if available, unless contraindicated or clinically significant adverse effects are experienced;
5. If request is for a dose increase, request meets one of the following (a or b):*
 - a. New dose does not exceed both of the following (i and ii):
 - i. 800 mg per day;
 - ii. 4 tablets per day;
 - b. New dose is supported by practice guidelines or peer-reviewed literature for the relevant off-label use (prescriber must submit supporting evidence).

IV. Appendices/General Information

Appendix A: Abbreviation/Acronym Key

FDA: Food and Drug Administration

FL: follicular lymphoma

MZL: marginal zone lymphoma

Appendix B: Therapeutic Alternatives

Not applicable

Appendix C: Contraindications/Boxed Warnings

None reported

Appendix D: Withdrawal from Market

- TG Therapeutics, Inc., the manufacturer of Ukoniq, voluntarily withdrew Ukoniq after a post-market safety trial found an increased risk of death in people who used Ukoniq and the FDA withdrew its approval for the product.
- FDA believes that the risk of Ukoniq outweighs its benefits.
 - This is based on a review of results from the UNITY clinical trial. In February 2022, FDA announced they were reviewing clinical trial data and alerted the public about a possible increased risk of death associated with Ukoniq based on analysis of the data. The manufacturer's decision to withdraw Ukoniq was based on the withdrawal of the BLA and sNDA for U2 in chronic lymphocytic leukemia (CLL).
 - In the first analysis of overall survival (OS) that used a cut-off date of September 2021, there was an imbalance in favor of the control arm (HR: 1.23). In February 2022, considering the ad-hoc nature of the analysis where approximately 15% of patients had missing or outdated survival data and excluding deaths related to COVID-19, the two arms were approximately balanced (HR: 1.04). Pursuant to recent information request made by FDA, updated OS data was collected and showed an increasing imbalance in favor of the control arm, differing from the improved results provided to FDA in February 2022.
 - Neither the original preliminary OS results nor the updated preliminary OS results were statistically significant.
- Currently FDA recommends patients should stop taking Ukoniq.
 - FDA recommends patients should stop taking Ukoniq and talk to health care professionals about alternative treatments.

- Currently FDA recommends health care professionals stop prescribing and dispensing Ukoniq to patients.
 - Inform patients currently taking Ukoniq of the increased risk of death seen in the clinical trial and advise them to stop taking the medicine.
